

Breweries in Middlebury Vermont

The Drop-In Brewing Company has been in business since the summer of 2012. Opening their own brewery was a dream for Steve Parkes and Christine Mckeever-Parkes of Salisbury since purchasing the prestigious American Brewers Guild nearly fifteen years ago. Their dream became a reality when they acquired an old plumbing supply building on Route 7 South in Middlebury, Vermont. With over 30 years of commercial brewing experience, beginning with his own degree in brewing science at Scotland's Heriot-Watt University, Steve will continue to brew a variety of artisan beers, that will continue to advance the craft brewing movement here in Vermont, and in America.

Drop-In Brewing
610 Route 7 South,
Middlebury VT 05753

Otter Creek has been hitting, hopping and dosing brews with creativity since acid-wash jeans were hip. Under the direction of brewmaster Mike Gerhart, we are undergoing a renaissance of rad, a rebirth of cool--throwing a bit of kind into the kettle whenever possible. Our hop-soaked ales are available throughout the Northeast and mid-Atlantic regions. With a focus on sustainability, we have managed to dramatically reduce our contribution to the waste stream and are always looking for new ways to improve on this front. Our spent hops and yeast are donated to local farmers for use as an alternative fertilizer, while our spent grain feeds local dairy cows. Keeping with our nature-loving cred, we're currently working with the Non-GMO Project to validate our ingredients.

Otter Creek Brewing
793 Exchange Street
Middlebury, VT 05753
(802) 388-0727

The Shed Brewery has been a Vermont staple for nearly 50 years. The original building on Mountain Road in Stowe was built in 1830 as a blacksmith shop. It later served as a cider mill and local gathering spot for Stowe farmers. During harvest, the local farmers would drop off their harvested apples and stay for a drink of hard cider and spirited conversation. They are division of the Otter Creek Brewery.

The Shed Brewery
793 Exchange St.
Middlebury, VT 05753
802-388-0727

Come to our Cidery, just off scenic Route 7 in Middlebury, VT. The Cider House and Tap Room welcomes visitors with self-guided tours, tastings, Woodchuck® gear, and 20 ciders on tap. We think there's nothing better than swapping stories with family and friends over a pint at the Cidery.

1321 Exchange Street
Middlebury, VT 05753
802-385-3656

Distilleries in Middlebury Vermont

From our solar-powered distillery, we are handcrafting a line of delicious, unique spirits that will delight the senses. These are not the latest vodka or bourbon variant; these are not products bought in bulk and bottled straight out of the shipping container. These are spirits that we carefully — painstakingly — craft ourselves to meet our own exacting standards. From spirits with intense flavors of coffee, to incredibly smooth sipping rum, to a high proof white whiskey that is sweet and delicious – and more spirits to follow – we are crafting spirits that are balanced, rich in flavor, and utterly unique.

88 Mainelli Rd.
Suite 1
Middlebury, VT 05753
802-989-7362
info@stonecuttersspirits.com

Seated in the rolling hills of Shoreham, WhistlePig Farm produces a series of highly renowned rye whiskeys. WhistlePig showcases the tremendous flavor potential of rye while maintaining a smooth and balanced profile, identifying it with the most acclaimed whiskeys in the world.

1030 Palmer Rd,
Shoreham, VT 05770
(802) 897-7708

or Tasting Room: 52 Seymour St
Middlebury, VT 05753
(802) 897-7700

www.whistlepigwhiskey.com

 All of the breweries/distilleries in Middlebury are 5 to 30 minutes from the Middlebury Inn***

NORTHERN VERMONT BREWERIES

14th Star Brewing Company is veteran-owned craft brewery in St. Albans, Vermont with the mission to brew high quality beer while enriching our local community. Our Taproom features exclusive releases and a rotating line-up of draft, canned, and bottled craft beer.

41 Lower Newton St.

St. Albans, Vermont 05478

802-393-1459 or 802-528-5988

Approximate 1.5 hours from the Middlebury Inn

Zero Gravity Brewery is located in the American Flatbread Burlington Hearth which opened in 2004, and they started brewing their own beer that same year. They built their own dome oven to wood fire the pizza. They started out with a 10 barrel system. Beer and bread making go together, and have, for more than 5000 years. They have an ‘unwavering commitment’ to staying true to the classic styles of a beer, which includes using the best ingredients possible. This doesn’t mean they can’t experiment, though. In 2012 they started selling beer offsite. Now they are looking to build a new brewery offsite to keep up with demand. Want to visit?

115 St. Paul St.
Burlington, Vermont 05401
802-861-2999
Approximately 1 hour from the Middlebury Inn

Fiddlehead Brewing Company is located in the beautiful town of Shelburne, Vermont. Our mission is to produce full flavored beers with the true beer connoisseur in mind. We focus on depth of flavor, freshness of ingredients, and incorporating local products when possible. We are currently focused on producing quality draft beer that is distributed to bars and restaurants in Vermont. Here at the brewery, we typically have a brand new original recipe on tap every other week. This means the selection is always rotating.

6305 Shelburne Rd.
Shelburne, Vermont 05482
802-399-2994 or fiddleheadbrewing@gmail.com
Approximately half an hour from the Middlebury Inn

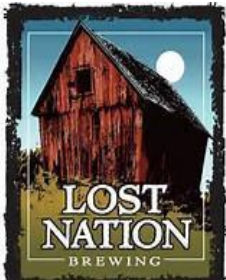

Lawson's Finest is a small batch artisanal microbrewery located in Warren, Vermont. Our goal is to provide local brews of the highest quality and freshness, while crafting unique new recipes and emulating the best of widely appreciated styles. Our beer is custom crafted in small batches at a modest production facility tucked in the woods, on the east flank of Lincoln Mountain.

Rt. 100

Warren, Vermont 05674

802-496-4677

Approximately 1hour from the Middlebury Inn

We set forth to create a brewery with a simple mission; to produce honest beer. The result is a 7,000bbl brewery located in Northern Vermont that is capable of brewing any style of ales and lagers. The brewery takes inspiration from lesser known European beer styles, along with local Vermont life to guide our brews. The attention to detail, modern equipment, and love for beer help produce truly authentic, unique beers. Enjoy!

87 Creamery Rd.

Morrisville, Vermont 05661

802-851-8041

Approximately 1.5 hour from the Middlebury Inn

The Magic Hat Brewery has been putting a performance into every bottle of beer since 1994. Today, the South Burlington, VT-based brewery puts out upwards of 175,000 barrels each year, and the brewing process, in all its strange and satisfying glory has never been more accessible.

5 Bartlett Bay Rd.

South Burlington, Vermont 05403

802-658-2739

Approximately 45 minutes from the Middlebury Inn

Locally owned and operated in Burlington's south end since 2002. 100% Employee and Vermont-owned . Visit us to learn about our unique brewing process! Join us in the Tap Room and watch the bottling line while enjoying a refreshing pint or flight. Always on tap, our flagship Switchback Ale, Citra-Pils Keller Bier, Connector IPA, select Rotating Specials and Limited Run beers. Brewery tours are offered on Saturdays by reservation. Tap Room hours at switchbackvt.com.

160 Flynn Avenue

Burlington, VT. 05401

802-651-4114.

Approximately 45 minutes from the Middlebury Inn

The Alchemist Cannery is newest 15 barrel, small production brewery specializing in fresh, unfiltered IPAs in the region. Alchemist uses only the finest imported malts and domestic hops available to bring you the tastiest and finest selection of beers in Vermont! Get your hands on the most popular double IPA 16 oz can of Heady Topper!

Alchemist:

- 100 Cottage Club Rd, Stowe, VT 05672
- Phone: (802) 882-8165

A humble brewery with capacity for 2,000 barrels per year quickly attracted attention under the name Trapp Lager, and the brewery received requests from all over the United States. The von Trapp family, who had always been reticent to commercialize their family heritage, realized that they had a product deserving of the family name. The new facility, completed in 2015 under the name von Trapp Brewing, allowed the family to expand beyond their home territory and spread the gospel of craft lagers.

700 Trapp Hill Rd.
Stowe, Vermont 05672
802-253-5709

Approximately 1.5 hours from the Middlebury Inn

The Vermont Pub & Brewery, the state's original Brewpub and longest running craft brewery, opened its doors on November 11, 1988 and has been one of Burlington's most popular establishments ever since.

144 College St.
Burlington, Vermont 05401
802-865-0500
Approximately 1 hour from the Middlebury Inn

SOUTHERN VERMONT

Harpoon was started in 1986 by three friends who loved beer and loved drinking beer together but found the beer choices at the time to be limited. Traveling through Europe and experiencing the rich traditions of European brewing and beer drinking enhanced their love of beer and opened their eyes to the rich beer culture they wanted back home. They decided to build a brewery so that they could brew the beers that they wanted to drink, and invite their friends to the brewery to drink it with them. See what's brewing at Harpoon! The Harpoon Riverbend Taps and Beer Garden, located in the same building as the brewery itself, offers a full selection of Harpoon beers straight from the source along with delicious food to pair with your pint.

336 Ruth Carney Dr.
Windsor, Vermont 05089
802-674-5491
Approximately 1.5 hours from the Middlebury Inn

Our spacious riverside pub & restaurant was inspired by the Hofbräu House in Munich, Germany. It is a magnificent place where the beer is plentiful and the atmosphere is a unique blend of industrial design and down-home comfort. We've sourced local Vermont ingredients to offer you a seasonal menu that complements our award-winning, handcrafted beer.

5520 US RT 4

Bridgewater Corners, Vermont 05035

802-672-5011

Approximately 1.5 hours from the Middlebury Inn